

The South Carolina Bar has partnered with public libraries across the state to offer the Law Talk program. Law talks are free education events open to the public. Attorney Kelly C. Johnson of Lakeside Law in Fort Mill will be giving a presentation on Family Law followed by a Q&A session.

This program will provide general legal education on Family Law topics such as marriage, alimony, divorce, custody, children, child support, and visitation. Ms. Johnson will not be able to comment or advise on specific cases.

York County Library

Main Library – Rock Hill

138 East Black Street

Rock Hill, SC 29730

*Registration is requested.***

Register online or call (803) 981-5825 starting April 2nd.

Family Law

Tuesday, April 16

5:30 – 6:30 p.m.